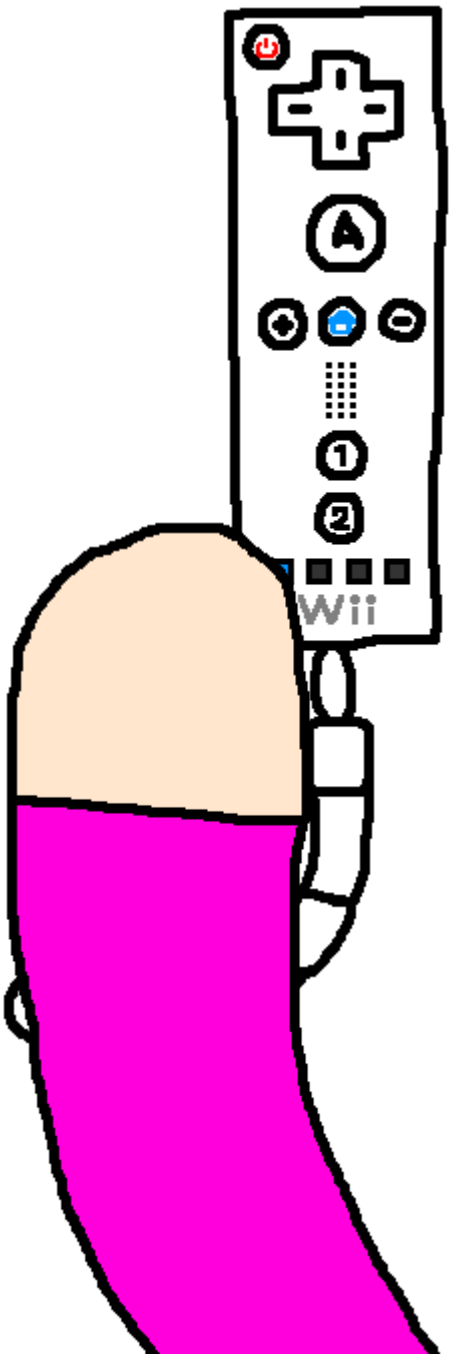
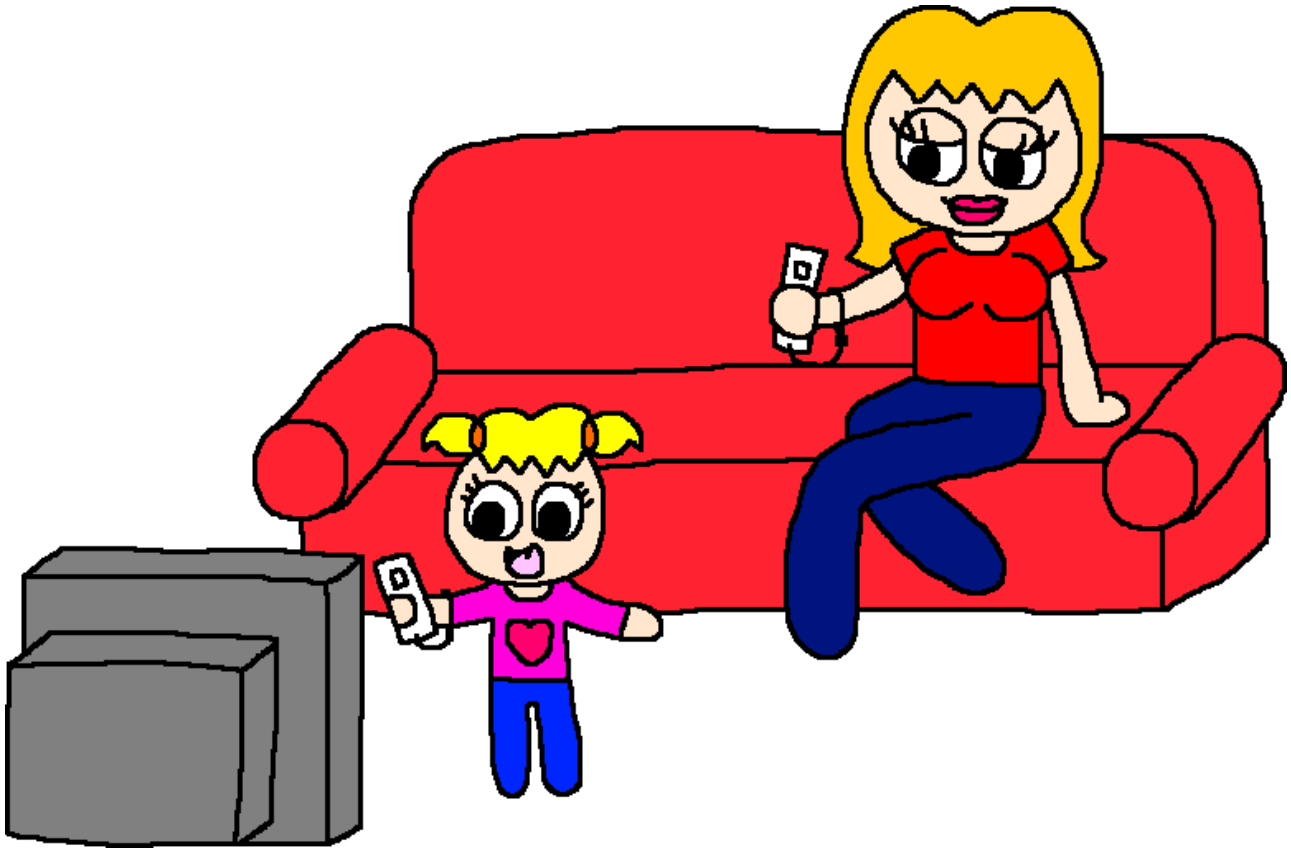
First time playing a video game?



Perhaps you need help first.



Introducing a video game where newcomers who are new to games can simply pick up and play and get help from a parent or guardian (or any type of person) as an Assistant so your child can have fun playing while you control more advanced controls that newcomers wouldn't understand. If your kid gets smart enough, you can enable them to do more advanced controls.

Play over 10 fun activities!

Tennis

Bowling

Jump Rope

Karting

Flying

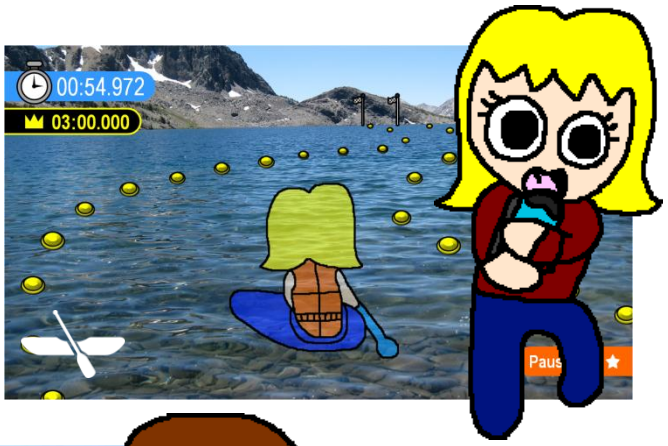
Jogging

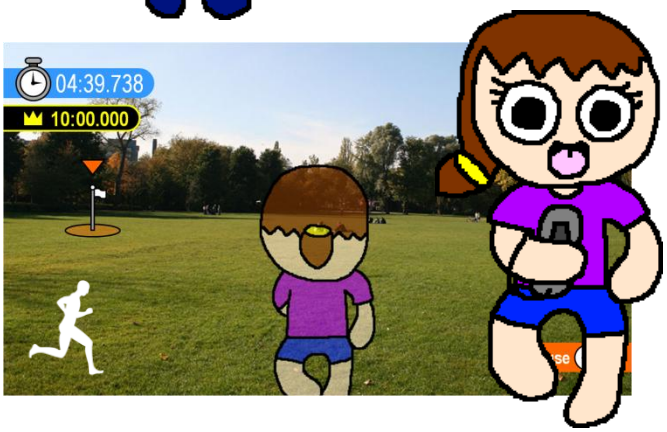
Riding

Canoeing

Skiing

Jet Boating





Create your very own cute little avatar and tweak its gender, skin, hair, shirt, pants and even more accessories to make your character appear in-game.

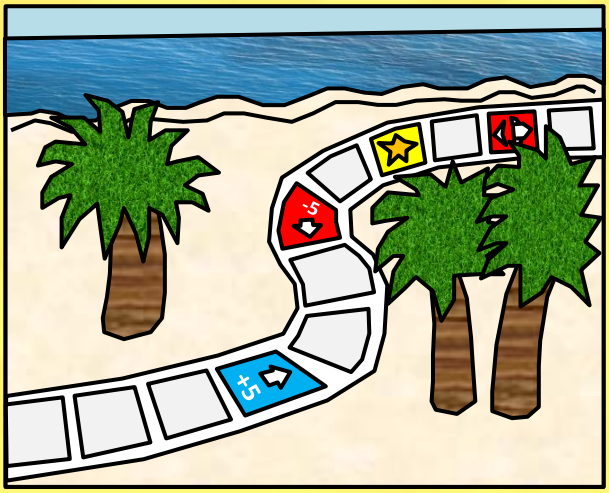
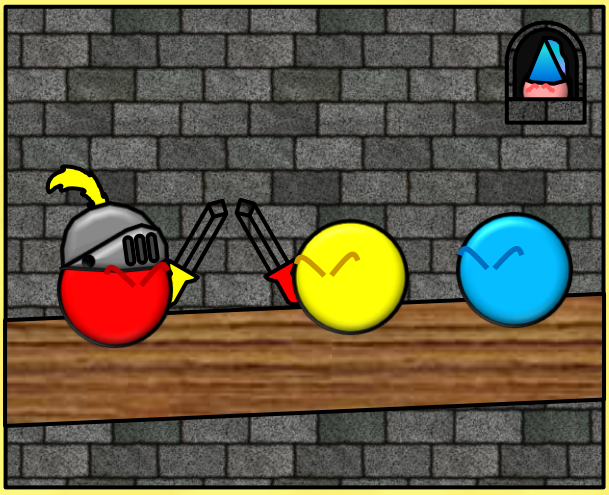
Party Modes

It's not just the minigames that are fun, but the Party Modes that give you fun objectives to complete each minigame.



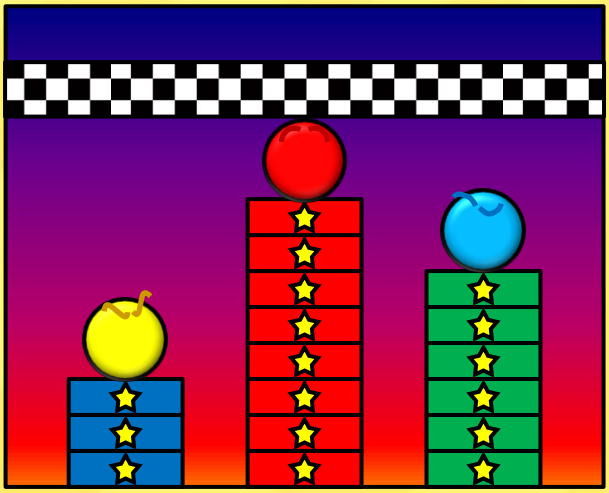
Board Rush

See who can get to the end of the board by winning each minigame to get a better dice to move on the board.



Hero Clash

Try to rescue the princess by defeating opponents who want to rescue her too, otherwise, they might take your place.



Star Towers

Win as many games as possible to get to the top of the finish line before your opponents get up there first.

Each mode also has a second objective with completely different rules which can be selected in-game.

Bored playing by yourself?

Connect to the internet and play online with friends or foes all around the world or regionally.

Pick n' Battle

Choose a minigame or Party Mode that you would like to play and go against random people online.

Ranked Battle

Battle against random people in randomly selected minigames and try to win as much as possible in order to increase your rank points.

Friendly Match

Play with your friends online and choose what minigame or Party Mode you would like to start off with.
